

ALLOCATION DRAFT

When the All-America Football Conference dissolved in 1950, the NFL put together a draft to assign players from the Buffalo Bills, Chicago Hornets and Los Angeles Dons. The draft order was determined by the order of finish of the 1949 season. Therefore, the draft order was: Baltimore, New York Yanks, Green Bay, Detroit, Washington, New York Giants, Pittsburgh, Chicago Cardinals (Tied with Pittsburgh), Chicago Bears, San Francisco 49ers (Tied with Chicago Bears), Los Angeles, Cleveland and Philadelphia. Since Baltimore and Green Bay were the weakest teams, they were given five extra draft picks each.
